THE DARK EDGE

THE ORIGIN STORY OF A 20 YEAR NAVY SEAL

Logline:

A 20-year Navy Seal veteran trains to be a mountain guide while looking back on his life.

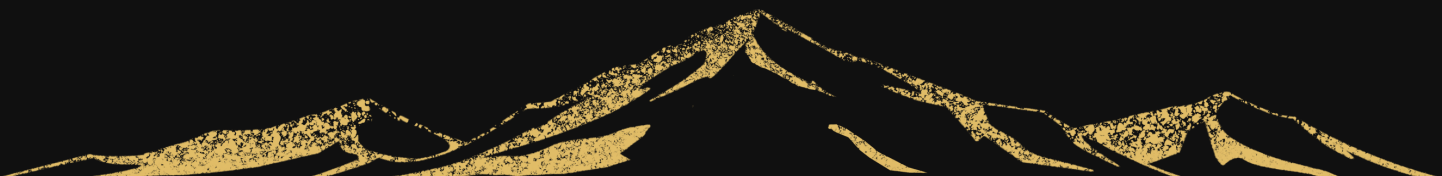

Synopsis:

Executing hundreds of combat missions with top-tier units around the world, earning some of the highest and most respected awards in his tenure, to become not only the top but the top one percent in his field. Humble enough to take on new tasks and new missions as a beginner. Becoming an elite ski patrol and now training to be a mountain guide. This is the origin story of 20-year veteran Navy Seal, Sean Evangelista.

Most aspire to eventually reach the mountains, the peak, not just figuratively but literally. Very few make it, not because they lose interest, but because they lose their lives in combat. Sean made it to the mountains, he thrives in it, he remembers his brothers and shares his adventure with them in spirit!! While looking over the dark edge he honors those men, he honors his own commitment to never settle, to never stop learning, never stop teaching, and most of all to never stop finding a way no matter how dark the edge!

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to provide as much value as possible through Sean's life experiences. We started discussing the possibilities of bringing Sean's life story to the big screen in August of 2022. First with the plan of developing an autobiography that dives in to the details of his early life and experiences in the SEAL's. Then the possibility of developing a short documentary titled "The Dark Edge" that would serve as a springboard and conversation starter for his eventual book release. We shot this documentary in early 2023 and plan to hit the festival circuit for the remainder of the year. Through the process of unraveling Sean's life events, we have developed a full outline for a narrative feature film the likes of "Lone Survivor" or "American Sniper." Our end goal is to release the book and feature film in the coming years.
